

Contract Training

Working with Arden University, the Confederation of Construction Specialists have developed a Construction Contractual Dispute Avoidance level 4 Programme for the construction industry.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND THE COURSE?

The course is designed specifically to provide a broad appeal, and is targeted at all construction staff who work with contracts.

The course is accredited by Arden University. Therefore, candidates should be prepared to meet the university's criteria to complete the course.

HOW LONG IS THE COURSE?

The course covers six modules over seven days.

As each module has an assignment completion element, the course dates for each module will be set approximately six weeks apart. The course will therefore take approximately seven months to complete.

Confederation of Construction Specialists members are eligible to receive preferential rates.

FAQs

Are there any exams to pass?

No, there are not any exams to pass. However, six assignments will need to be passed during the duration of the course.

Will I receive a University certificate, and at what level is the course set?

Yes, an Arden University certificate will be issued on completion of the course. The level of the course is set at level 4. In addition, on successful completion of the course, each candidate will be eligible for 1 year's free membership of the Institute of Construction Specialists (IOCS).
